1. Introduction

The iwCLL seeks proposals from interested parties to host the iwCLL 2023 Biennial Meeting. This document details the application process for those parties interested. Any questions relating to the application process should be directed to the iwCLL Office iwclloffice@gmail.com

Please note that the iwCLL does not accept applications from potential hosts from remote areas of the world. This is due to difficulties in securing industry support, flight costs for the major scientific contributors and the costs to delegates attending.

The iwCLL does however hold regional conferences in remote areas of the world. Please contact the iwCLL Office if you are interested in holding a regional conference.

2. The iwCLL

2.1 About the iwCLL

2.1.1 About Us

The International Workshop on CLL is an international, non-profit association based in Cologne, Germany, which is committed to creating progress regarding the management and outcome of patients with chronic lymphocytic leukemia world-wide.

2.1.2 Vision

The vision of iwCLL is a world where all patients with CLL can be cured.

2.1.3 Mission

- The iwCLL is committed to creating progress regarding the management and outcome of patients with chronic lymphocytic leukaemia world-wide.
- The purpose of the iwCLL is to foster research and promote education of physicians and scientists on the treatment and on the clinical, translational and basic science on CLL.
- The iwCLL wants to attract scientists and physicians working in this field.
- The iwCLL is committed to render optimal therapies available to all patients with CLL in the world regardless of their income, education, gender, geographic region and health care system of their country.
- This mission of the iwCLL will be achieved by organising scientific events and meetings, support and/or fund research projects, including commissioning research. The iwCLL gives awards to scientists and clinicians that have contributed significantly to the field.

2.1.4 Values

Our values are:

- being refreshing and thought-provoking in our approach
- fostering collaboration
- being inclusive
- acknowledging hard work and scientific achievements
- enabling transparency
- creating an atmosphere of respect and truthfulness

2.1.5 Objectives

The iwCLL is organized for the following purposes:

- development and support of clinical, translational and fundamental research activities on CLL and related diseases;
- support of the interaction and cooperation between clinical experts (physicians, study groups) and scientific/research groups on CLL and related areas on an international level;
- establishment of general standards regarding
 - diagnostics and therapies for CLL patients
 - implementation and harmonization of clinical studies on CLL and related diseases;
- support of international communication and publications of clinical and scientific know-how on CLL and related diseases;
- regular organization of congresses, symposia and conferences in order to support the activities as described under No. 1-3.

2.2 Organizational Structure

The iwCLL Executive Board is the main decision-making body of the association. It consists of one chairperson, one deputy chairperson, one secretary, one treasurer and if, elected by the general assembly, of one or several administrative directors.

For further information on the organizational structure of the association please refer to Appendix A.

3. The Biennial Meeting

3.1 Introduction

The Biennial Meeting which is held in different locations throughout the world focuses solely on advancing the understanding and treatment of chronic lymphocytic leukemia (CLL) and related lymphoproliferative disorders. Founded in 1979, the iwCLL Biennial Meeting is now the largest international meeting dedicated to advancing state-of-the-art and emerging concepts – from laboratory-based research to the clinic – in the pathobiology and treatment of these blood cancers. The Biennial Meeting is intended to provide a forum that promotes the exchange of information and encourages collaboration among international leaders and scientists interested in CLL and lymphoproliferative disorders. The Biennial Meeting attracts around 1200 delegates from over 40 countries.

3.3 2019 Biennial Meeting Data

Please refer to Appendix B for historical biennial meeting data.

4. Time Commitment for the Chair of the Biennial Meeting

The time commitment is estimated at a total of 100 hours. The work is intermittent and is dependent on the meeting timeline.

Failure to meet deadlines can critically affect the meeting costs and flow.

Please refer Appendix C for Job Description – Biennial Meeting Chair

5. Budget and Resources

- 5.1 The financial liability of the Biennial Meeting lies fully with the iwCLL.
- 5.2 Any profit from the Biennial Meeting will be retained by the iwCLL. The iwCLL does not guarantee any profit for the local organizer. The iwCLL may at their discretion reimburse the local organizer for their time and effort.
- 5.3 Bio Ascend LLC is the contracted Professional Conference Organizer of the iwCLL. Bio Ascend LLC will partner with the Biennial Meeting Chair to plan and execute the Biennial Meeting.
- 5.4 The iwCLL does not provide secretarial assistance for the Biennial Meeting Chair nor does it reimburse Biennial Meeting Chairs' secretaries for providing secretarial assistance.

6. Decision Criteria for Biennial Meeting

The iwCLL Executive Board chooses Biennial Meeting destinations on a number of factors.

6.1 Timing

Three conference days (Saturday, Sunday and Monday) with the Young Investigator Meeting and the Exhibition build being held before the main meeting on Friday.

- Dates should be in September with preference given to the second and third weekend. Care should be taken to avoid clashes with other conflicting scientific/medical meetings aswell as events in the chosen city that may affect accommodation and meeting venue space costs.

6.2 Location

- internationally recognized destination with an international airport hosting numerous airlines, serving multiple worldwide destinations within reasonable distance of the city.
- enough hotel bedrooms to accommodate delegates (for those not wishing to stay at the conference venue) within easy reach of the conference venue to suit all budgets.

6.3 Conference Venue

The conference venue which should ideally have meeting space and accommodation facilities and should offer the following:

- open registration area
- organizers working office for 20 staff
- working office for iwCLL
- speakers lounge
- one plenary/general session room for up to 1750 people (symposia traditionally held in general session room)
- commercial exhibition/poster/catering space 2,000^m²
- one breakout room for 200 people for the Young Investigator Meeting with separate catering area
 - ability to cater for the YIM Meeting 1 x am and pm break inside or just outside the meeting room
 - separate space for 1 x lunch
 - option of additional breakout rooms dependent on structure of agenda
- experience in executing major international meetings
- ancillary space for a mother's room, press room, prayer room, filming room and speaker ready room
- 1 x meeting room 100sq m for each Platinum Sponsor (allow for 3 Platinum Sponsors)
- 5 x ancillary meeting spaces at 110 sq m at the host location
- ability to cater for the iwCLL Main Meeting 5 x am and pm breaks, 3 x lunches, 1 x welcome reception, 1 x wine and cheese poster reception, 1 x speakers lounge
- audio visual services

6.4 Social Programme

- A Welcome Reception hosted at the Conference Venue or at a different location depending on the city and venue selection (500 plus participants)
- Faculty/Committee Dinner at an outside venue (80 participants)

6.5 Financial Viability

The financial viability of the Biennial Meeting is a major deciding factor for the iwCLL Executive Board. Industry support for the meeting, flight costs for the major scientific contributors, and the costs to delegates attending will be taken into account when making the decision.

6.6 Human Resource

The Biennial Meeting Chair should have an international reputation for great scientific achievement and dedication to research in CLL with previous experience of being involved in organizing major international meetings. The Biennial Meeting will be supported by the following committees;

- Local Organizing Committee; works in collaboration with the International Programme Committee Chair and other committee members to help in the oversight in the planning, hosting decisions, abstract scoring (as requested by the Chair) and publicizing the meeting. The committee can have between 3 and 10 members.
- International Programme Committee; works in collaboration with the Programme Chair to develop the workshop outline, agenda and identifies proposed faculty and session chairs as well as scoring abstracts. The committee can have between 3 and 10 members. The immediate past Biennial Meeting Chair will serve on the International Programme Committee.
- Young Investigators Meeting Committee; works in collaboration with the YIM Co-chairs and other committee members to develop the YIM meeting agenda and to score YIM abstract submissions. The committee can have between 3 and 10 members.

7. Proposal

A full proposal should include the information outlined below.
